It was a great excursion! Just back from Australia, I found myself plunged into the heart of "Englishness" in a bell ringer's minibus en route to the West Sussex Downs to ring at five parish churches of medieval origin, on a day of alternating sun and rainstorms. The first stop was Fernhurst, a chapel dedicated to dragon slaying St Margaret of Antioch. The community ladies provided tea and coffee. An organist played, and we rang in the tiny 8 feet square, 3 bell tower. Next, it was on to St Mary's Easebourne with a ring of 8 bells. Before the Reformation, this church had a priory for six nuns, built in 1273. On to St Michaels Lodsworth with a good ring of 6 bells and a large millennium tapestry made by the children of the parish.

Fernhurst

Then it was time for lunch in the historic Horse Guards Inn Tillington, and after that it was across the road to All Hallows church (5) which Turner and Constable had both painted. It has a Scottish Crown spire and a Romanesque sculpture. Then it was on to St Michael's Northchapel (6) for a long ring on their light bells - the Tenor being just 3cwt. Finally at the end of the day a drive back through the beautiful English landscape!

Training afternoon at Waddesdon and Tetsworth on 30th October.

It was a lovely autumn afternoon and our first stop was St Michaels and the Angels Church at Waddesdon where the six bells cast from 1802 to 1862 are the only 6 bell steel ring of bells being rung in the world. Twelve ringers had a good practice in the ancient but comfortable stone tower. Then it was on to St Giles Tetsworth, and up a vertical ladder through a hinged trapdoor into a tiny ringing chamber where we had a fairly indifferent practice for another hour.
